Web-Enabled Document Management

Print Smarter. Spend Less.

Elite PrintManage is a smart, web-based document management toolset that helps you plan, track and manage print buys across the organization. By providing a top-down view of print supply chain activities, PrintManage offers the insider insight you need to reduce inventory, slash item waste, and stay lean and efficient.

Print costs can add up quickly. Consider this: on average, a business will waste nearly a third of the print assets it produces. And that's without even taking into account the considerable costs (and hassles) of day-to-day item administration.

PrintManage is the answer to that high-cost-and-excessive-waste dilemma. Our solution helps businesses simplify item management and cut costs by providing instant online access to the key print supply chain info that drives smart procurement decisions.

It all works like this: PrintManage's secure online platform exhaustively tracks location-by-location order and usage information. Then uses deep-dive analytic tools to present the sum of all that data in simple, thin-slice info chunks that help you make smart, money-saving decisions in the blink of an eye.

So nothing - no order, no item in inventory, no location usage data - falls through the cracks. And every transaction (no matter how minute or mundane) is rigorously tracked, reported and evaluated in an effort provide you with the leanest, fastest, most efficient procurement strategy possible.

Additional point-and-click web tools enable your employees to easily view item images and specifications and modify, proof, and release/reorder collateral directly from their office desktops. And our back-end administrative resources offer you the global oversight that you'll need to align order practices company-wide and track and manage spend by item, department, location or user.

The end result: smart, efficient print management decisions made at the speed of business.

Elite Tools. Elite Results.

Think of PrintManage as the brains behind your print supply chain: giving your company the tools it needs to get the most from its print investment. Our solution is built with the right stuff to help make your business life easier and more productive, including:

- Smarter Ordering: Access, customize, proof and order items online.
- Better Information: Simple, intuitive reporting tools provide smart, real-time, data-driven order decisions.
- More Control: Track, control and align print purchase practices company-wide.
- Less Waste: Lean, responsive procurement practices reduce waste and increase inventory turns.
- Lower Costs: Analytical production management tools leverage your print supply chain data to keep per-item and total print overhead low.
